

Cathy has been teaching art classes and camps out of her local studio for more than 25 years. She received her undergraduate degree in Ceramics at BGSU. She studied at OSU graduate school in hot glass. She has taught all ages in Museums, Galleries, College and public school settings, often by request. She believes in free expression with many art media, to develop each child's own skill and style.

Many kids have loved to return to Cathy's art camps year after year. Her "heart goes out to all children who want to be just kids." Cathy challenges kids who want and need to be challenged and guides those who want the freedom to just create and play with clay. The simple, small camp atmosphere, with trained student and adult studio assistants, allows kids to receive plenty of personal attention.

Each year Cathy introduces new clay projects, new "messy games" and different kids make each camp unique. We do have a snack time.

All supplies are included.
